

Australian Men's Shed Association

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

It's the wireless you'd listen to if you were in the Shed.

This week:

- He's the man with more sheds on his patch than anyone else, the Federal Minister for Regional Health, Regional Communications and Local Government Mark Coulton
- Spend some time in the Whittlesea Men's Shed and find out why it works so well
- "As my old Dad used to say": Stuart talks about the wisdom handed down through the generations through sayings, quotes and adages
- An inspired Rip Woodchip shares his favourite bush wisdom
- By popular demand, we sit down with our Irish Men's Shed brothers for some more craic
- Professor John Macdonald talks about what older shedders can get from young Shedders — and vice versa

Hosted by Broadcaster Aaron Kearney OAM and AMSA Boss

David Helmers

Listen and subscribe with this link

<https://podcasts.apple.com/au/podcast/the-shed-wireless-episode-9/id1510493380?i=1000479516682>

Not great with technology? This link is for you

mensshed.org/theshedwireless

Send us an email to

theshedwireless@mensshed.net

Have a laugh and share a piece of wisdom by visiting The Shed Online

'If the grass is greener on the other side, there's probably more manure there.'

'Never attribute malice to that which can be explained by stupidity.'

Have you got a favourite saying or 'old adage' that you learned somewhere along the line?

Click here to read more on The Shed Online.

