

Australian Men's Shed Association
SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

THE SHED
Wireless
HOSTED BY John Paul Young

Have a listen! A podcast for Shedders

New episode August 2021

Man boobs, native bee boxes and a Shedder who thought he was a goner (but survived COVID)

We've put together this episode of The Shed Wireless to keep you entertained, especially if you're in lockdown.

- On-the-tools there's nothing fancy required to build a native bee box (see right) but you might find yourself with a fascinating new hobby like Shedder Gavin Smith did.
- We catch up with Shedder Tom Wolf who caught COVID last year and believed he would die. How's he going 18 months later?
- Man boobs. Did you know, they have a proper medical name? Are they an inevitable part of ageing? We Ask-the-Doc, Professor Rob McLachlan from Healthy Male.
- Our special guest is that funny Irishman Jimeoin who is still in the laughter business in his 50s.
- Produced by the Australian Men's Shed Association and available wherever you get your podcasts or simply press play ► at mensshed.org/theshedwireless

Listen on Apple Podcasts

Simply click here or on the Apple Podcasts icon (see right)

Listen on Google podcasts

Click here or on the Google Podcasts icon (see right).

To send an email or story suggestion to JPY and the team please write to theshedwireless@mensshed.net

© Copyright AMSA | Send to a friend

If you are the original recipient of this email and no longer wish to receive communications from the Australian Men's Shed Association, you can unsubscribe here. If you are not the original recipient of this email (it has been forwarded to you), please contact the sender to let them know you do not wish to receive these emails.